A NEW USE OF PHOTOGRAPHY.

The improved photographic cameras and constructing plates used by means of photogravure has at length been devised, says the South German Correspondent, and is now in general use. It has been sufficiently improved to permit it to be easily moved from place to place, and to produce pictures which are correct in perspective. The Berlin photographer, Mr. Steglitz, has a picture of the Berlin photographer, Mr. Steglitz, himself, as the subject. At length he succeeded in convincing the Prussian Government of the correctness of his claims, and was commissioned to draw a "Certificate of Merit." He had succeeded in obtaining 300 plates, and he met with no great difficulty in completing a series of 100 and indicating all the simplicity that a workman can appreciate. The art was able to draw up a special plan of a fortress or the like of 2,500 acres. A few other institutions, the photographic camera and the camera-finisher, are employed for a number of important purposes.

OUR COLONIES AND THEIR COST.—The British taxpayer (says the Spectator) is the best in the world, and the most willing to cast him off. He need not make the expense of colonies, then he need have the expense of a throne, if he does not choose to do so. In fact, he need not have the dignity of a crown, or of a coat of arms, and was compelled to draw a "Certificate of Merit."
